

LAI D THE CORNER STONE OF THE NEW CITY HALL

Elaborate Civic and Masonic Ceremonies in Connection with the Event Took Place in the City of Janesville Today.

GRAND LODGE OF MASONS IN CHARGE

Magnificent Parade Made Up of the Various Lodges and Societies—Addresses by Mayor, Richardson, Grand Master Perry and Others.

With most imposing ceremonies the corner stone of Janesville's new city hall building was placed in position this afternoon, while the assembled multitude of people felt a general and sincere thrill of civic pride as the laying of the corner stone impressed them with a realization that the city is soon to boast a building that will represent its municipal interests in a manner that will be a credit and a constant source of gratification.

The beauty of a perfect day, the fairest one this autumn had descended to bestow, crowned the occasion and made it an especially happy event. The bright sunshine and mild atmosphere lured many people out of doors to witness the parade and the services at the building who would not have felt that they could participate in the services had the weather been disagreeable. The warmth of the afternoon made it comfortable for spectators and much of the pleasant success of the ceremony was due to the delightful weather.

Business Places Closed

In accordance with the request of the mayor and common council, many of the factories and places of business observed the afternoon as a half holiday. Many of the stores were closed, at least during the exercises, and proprietors and employees took part as loyal citizens in the ceremony which was of such import to the best interest to the municipality and spoke so eloquently of the city's progressiveness and prosperity.

To those who looked beneath the mere formality of laying the corner stone to the deeper significance and thought of all that this building is to stand for and may be made to represent, there seemed much reason for general rejoicing. Today's proceedings marked one of the most important occurrences in the history of the city and one which is full of significance because it stands for the fact that Janesville has joined heart and soul in the onward march and means to keep up with the procession.

It was fitting that the city should observe it as a holiday and that citizens should show their sympathy with the progressive spirit by their presence at the impressive services.

Masons Central Figure

The ceremonies being under the auspices of the Grand Lodge of the Wisconsin Free and Accepted Masons members of the Masonic order naturally formed the central figure of the afternoon's service. Visiting Masons began arriving from Milwaukee, Racine, Whitewater, Evansville, Edgerton, Brodhead, Footville and other cities in Southern Wisconsin early this morning. They were the guests of honor of the day and were escorted to the Masonic hall on their arrival where they were entertained by the local Masonic orders.

From 11:30 until 1 o'clock a substantial and very appetizing luncheon was served in the Masonic dining hall, a form of entertainment which was greatly appreciated by the visitors.

The hall was prettily decorated with autumn leaves, the tables with cut flowers and the catering was in the efficient hands of the Janesville

Chapter, No. 69, Order of Eastern Star. Over fifty visiting Masons were entertained at the luncheon and their wants were well cared for by the large committee of Eastern Star ladies who waited on the tables.

The Procession Formed

The procession formed at 1:30 o'clock on Main street in front of the Court House park and was under the control of Chief Marshal Oscar F. Nowlan and Grand Marshal Theodore W. Goldin. The line of march was up Main street to Milwaukee, west on Milwaukee to North Jackson and up North Jackson to the corner of Jackson and Wall streets. The formation of the procession was as follows:

Chief Hogan and Officer Brown, Imperial Band.
Grand Lodge Officers
Western Star Lodge No. 14.
Janesville Lodge, No. 55.
Common Council and city officials in carriages.
Grand Army of the Republic.
Chief Spencer, Janesville Fire Department.
Citizens in carriages and on foot.

Grand Lodge Officers

The ceremonies attendant upon the laying of the corner stone were very simple and followed the usual Masonic ritual. The work was performed by the following Grand Lodge officials:

W. W. Perry—Grand Master.
L. M. Nelson—Deputy Grand Master.
H. C. Dittmar—Grand Senior Warden.
N. M. Littlejohn—Grand Junior Warden.
C. E. Shannon—Grand Treasurer.
W. E. Mack—Grand Secretary.
A. E. Matheson—Grand Chaplain.
T. W. Goldin—Grand Marshal.
J. W. Clark—Grand Senior Deacon.
Mark Sullivan—Grand Junior Deacon.
C. S. Sutton—Grand Steward.
A. S. Lee—Grand Steward.
E. E. Heston—Grand Sword Bearer.
Ernest N. Littlejohn—Grand Pursuivant.
J. B. Cronwell—Grand Cleric.
G. B. Evans—Holy Wielder.

Exercises at City Hall

The exercises at the city hall were opened with a selection by the Imperial band. Then followed a brief prayer by Grand Chaplain Matheson. The Grand Master then made a few remarks, the cap stone was raised to allow the depositing of the box in the cavity and announced the contents of the box to be a brief history of Rock county by E. G. Fifield, the names of the officials of the Grand Lodge, a copy of Masonic tidings, a list of the municipal officers of Janesville and a quarter of a dollar of the coinage of 1805.

Then followed a selection by the Imperial band during which the box was deposited in the cavity prepared for it in the corner stone.

The officers of the Grand Lodge then tried the stone with the square, level and plumb and found it to be properly formed and placed. The stone was then consecrated with corn wine and oil and the consecration concluded by a prayer by the Grand Master.

Mayor Richardson was then introduced and spoke as follows:

Mayor Richardson's Speech
Ladies and Gentlemen: Fellow Citizens—From time immemorial it has been customary to lay the corner stones of public buildings with cere-

WILL BE BACK AS HIS DESK MONDAY: GOVERNOR IS RESTORED TO HEALTH

He Says Though Protracted and Serious, His Illness Has Never Been Dangerous—Means To Take Better Care of Himself Hereafter.

Oregon, Wis., Oct. 19.—After an absence of four months, Governor La Follette will return to the executive chambers on Monday.

"I expect from the start to put in a few hours every day at the capitol, though there is no official urgency in the matter. It will be a considerable convenience for Jerre, though, who has been compelled to lug a batch of documents from the capitol to the executive mansion with his daily reports."

The governor made this announcement in the most matter of fact manner. He had spent almost the entire afternoon in the saddle, having ridden into town with his host and family physician, Dr. Philip Fox of Madison to inspect a consignment of Kentucky thoroughbreds, which were received in fine condition. Among them a stallion that promises to make Dane county famous; an exquisitely graceful animal, of docile temperament, yet spirited in action. The governor in an interview said: "I shrink from exploiting my seemingly complete convalescence, as I shrink from according publicity to the details of my illness. But now that I have become an adept, so to speak, in the use of a stomach pump, and am laying on flesh with the hearty appetite that follows gastric irritation as crops do that in Arizona, I am glad of this opportunity to assure my friends, that, though protracted and serious, my illness has never been dangerous."

"There has never been the slightest trace of jaundice, but I was white as a sheet, from long confinement, when I came out here ten days ago. However, it's not all tan, I am sure; for my muscles have been hardening appreciably day by day, since I came to the farm. Thus I feel but slightly fatigued now. I shall lead a less sedentary life hereafter, and mean to be more discreet in my fare and more regular in my meals."

PAYNE CONFERS WITH BABCOCK

There is Little Between the Two Men in Regard to Changes in the Tariff.

Milwaukee, Oct. 19.—Political conferences of more than usual interest were held at the Hotel Pfister yesterday, between political leaders of national prominence. Henry C. Payne, vice chairman of the republican national committee, who has recently returned from Washington, where he met President Roosevelt several times was closeted most of the day, first with Congressman J. W. Babcock, whose suggestions of changes in the tariff laws have attracted wide attention, and later with Senator John C. Spooner.

As a result of the conference between Mr. Payne and Mr. Babcock it develops that there is little difference of opinion between these two men in regard to the tariff changes. "As I understand Mr. Babcock's views," said Mr. Payne last evening, "he does not favor any general revision of the tariff at the present time, but simply modifications as regards a few products which are being sold by American manufacturers abroad at lower prices than in this country. If it is true, as it is claimed, that steel billets, for instance, which are used by so many manufacturers all through the country, are sold at lower prices in foreign countries than in this country, then action should be taken to protect our manufacturers from this unjust discrimination."

MINNESOTA MOURNS FOR J. S. PILLSBURY

Notable and Popular Man, in the North Star State Will Be Buried Tomorrow.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 19.—The death of Ex-Governor John S. Pillsbury has created profound sorrow throughout this state. He was respected and loved by all classes of people. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon.

John Sargent Pillsbury was born in Sutton, N. H., in July, 1828. He worked on a farm and in country stores as a boy. In 1855 he engaged in the hardware business at the Fall of St. Anthony (now Minneapolis), but lost everything by a fire two years later. In 1866 he married Mahala Fisk of Warner, N. H. In 1872 he became a member of the milling firm of Charles A. Pillsbury & Co., which laid the foundation for his fortune. In 1893 he built and presented a town hall to his native town of Sutton, N. H., and early this year built and presented to the city of Minneapolis a girls' home. Last year he presented an elaborate and expensive library building to East Minneapolis. He became a regent of the University of Minnesota in 1863 and served in that capacity for many years. He served as a state senator in the Minnesota legislature from 1864 to 1876, when he was elected governor, in which office he served three terms. During his term as governor he took a decided stand against repudiation of railroad bonds of the state and won his point by re-adjusting the finances of the state government. In 1889 ex-Gov. Pillsbury built Science hall and presented it to the State University, and in 1897 an act was passed by the legislature making him a life regent of the university. Mr. Pillsbury lived in a magnificent home at Minneapolis and was one of the men who made this city world-famous.

Playing Whist for Money.

"Whist halls" are advertised in the eastern papers. Those institutions are public resorts, where whist is played for prizes redeemable in money. Poker parlors are prohibited in large New England cities, but the whist hall is much in vogue.

CONCERNING WOMEN WAGE EARNERS

State Labor Bureau Institutes an Investigation—Information from Worker and Employer.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 19.—State Labor Commissioner Erickson has outlined his plans for an investigation of the condition of wage-earning women in Wisconsin, and to carry it out has prepared three schedules of questions addressed to domestic service workers and to employers of domestic servants.

"The domestic service, he says, while increasing in importance and connected with many serious problems has received little attention. A growing interest in the question has created a strong demand for reliable information, which it is the purpose of the inquiry to supply, with the hope that the facts ascertained will aid their studying the problems involved."

Wisconsin will be the pioneer in this field of investigation, and Mr. Erickson is hopeful of valuable results. It will be in charge of Miss Ida May Jackson of Milwaukee, one of the inspectors of the bureau, who will make the problem a special study.

"Reform in other lines of work," says the commissioner, "have come only after a clear understanding of the case has been obtained, and no lessening of the friction which undeniably exists in the domestic service can be known, and it is as necessary to have the story of one side as it is to have that of the other." He hopes therefore to have the co-operation of both the worker and the employer.

EFFORT TO RELEASE MARS DENIED

Writ of Habeas Corpus Avoided by Slipping the Boy Out of Town at Midnight.

A determined effort was made last night by the relatives of Ray Marsden to rescue him by a writ of "habeas corpus" from the hands of the officers of the law. After Marsden was sentenced yesterday Miss Kimball and W. H. Ryan consulted Attorney E. H. Ryan to see if there was not some way of having the sentence of the municipal court set aside and have the boy sent back to Waukesha or the state reformatory at Green Bay.

Steps were at once taken by Attorney Ryan tending to accomplish this end. The police were not asleep during this time and at once proceeded to get Marsden out of the city. Sheriff Matlack took the young man in charge and hustled him away from the jail and when the 12:10 on the Northwestern pulled out of the city last night the sheriff and his prisoner were aboard bound for Madison. This morning they took the early train from Madison, to Jefferson Junction and before noon the boy was safely behind the bars of the prison at Waupun. This action relieves the local authorities of all responsibility in the matter and the relatives can now settle the matter with the state board.

AN ORDER OF COURT STIRS UNION LABOR

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Judge Kohlsaat order restraining the picketing of a machinery plant by the strikers and characterizing such an action as treason, civil war and tyranny of the most despotic character, has aroused union labor in Chicago as it has never been aroused before. The strikers declare they will ignore the order and picket the plants as usual even if every one of the two thousand men effected are placed in jail.

President has now heard arguments from supporters and opponents of the ship subsidy scheme, and it is believed he will recommend a bill that will encourage the merchant marine rather than the fast passenger steamships.

TO EXTEND RURAL MAIL SERVICE

Nearly Three Million Dollars More in the Estimates Than Last Year—Sec'y Smith's Annual Report.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—Postmaster General Smith's annual report for the fiscal year, ended June 30, 1901, which will be made public in the course of a month or so, will contain three features of especial interest. They are the universal extension of the rural free delivery service, the resumption and extension of the pneumatic tube service, and a resume of the scope, force and effect of the recent order against premium publications.

Mr. Smith will ask Congress to increase the appropriation for the rural free delivery service to $6,250,000, an increase of $2,750,000 over the estimates for last year. Mr. Smith is highly in favor of the universal extension of the rural free delivery system, believing it to be one of the most popular and successful branches of the postoffice department's mail service, and will recommend its extension throughout the districts where it can be shown to be advisable.

As fast as the appropriations for 1902 become available the discontinuance of star routes and the establishment of rural free delivery routes has been continued daily. Four hundred additional carriers were appointed on October 1st, and 400 more will be appointed on November 1st. Numerous protests have been received from the contractors for star routes against the further extension of the rural free delivery services, but as their protests are entirely personal Mr. Smith will not give them consideration in urging the increased appropriation for the extension of the service.

TOBACCO DEALERS TO MEET TONIGHT

The Janesville Tobacco Dealers' association which held a meeting this evening for the purpose of making arrangements for the meeting of the leaf tobacco dealers of the state in this city next Tuesday. The session will be held at the Grand, where the local and visiting dealers will have a banquet.

The meeting will be one of a social nature and is called for the purpose of becoming better acquainted with the dealers of other cities. Matters pertaining to the trade will also be considered and there will probably be a system of grading considered, so that all the dealers will be working on the same plane.

The Janesville Leaf Tobacco Dealers' association is the only one of the kind in the state and dealers from all parts of the state are expected.

SCHLEY INQUIRY REACHING A CLOSE

Efforts of Rayner to Establish the Fact That His Client Was in Command.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—With the end of the Schley inquiry almost at hand there seems to be no prospect that a verdict will be rendered on the question of command during the battle of Santiago. The precept does not require the court to say whether Sampson or Schley were in command and the court has shown no disposition to raise that point.

Schley's counsel, however, has contended that a settlement of that question is essential to the presentation of the case in spite of the court's contrary rulings on this point. Rayner has been quite successful in showing in an indirect manner that Schley was in command. He has brought out the fact that the Brooklyn was in her blockading position when the battle began and was in the thick of the fight, made signals to the fleet and received the surrender of the Colon an hour before the New York arrived. It is likely that Schley will take the stand during the early part of next week.

GIDEON HOSTS GATHER IN CAMP

Second Annual Rally of Janesville Division of Gideons of America.

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN

Most of the National Officers of the Army Present at the Meeting.

PROGRAM IN DETAIL

An army is encamped within the city but it is an army of peace whose purpose is to build up and not to destroy and devastate. It is the host of Gideon and is pledged to advance the cause of Christianity. Its soldiers are volunteers from the ranks of the Christian traveling men of America. For today and tomorrow Janesville is the central point of the country and this city, the birthplace of the order, is to be the scene of one of the largest and best rallies the Gideons have ever seen. Many of the workers of national prominence are already in the city, being called here by the executive committee meetings which were held this afternoon.

Meetings This Afternoon

These meetings were held at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. building by both the national and the state executive committees. These conferences were held for the purposes of discussing general plans for future work and for determining several routine matters such as naturally fall to executive committees to decide.

The National Officers.

The National Officers are S. E. Hill, of Beloit, president; R. L. Adams of Madison, vice president; John H. Nicholson of Janesville, secretary; W. C. Knights, Janesville, treasurer; L. C. Smith, Oshkosh, chaplain; S. J. Lee, Elgin, W. H. Teetzel, Chicago; E. C. Beedee, Monmouth, Ill., counselors; Charles H. Palmer, Chicago; W. S. Bowen, Chicago, and F. C. Harder, Plainfield, N. J., national superintendents. The state officers are: A. D. Lewis, Babcock, president; J. F. Grunkaw, Milwaukee, vice president; J. M. Clifton, Madison, secretary and treasurer; Rev. E. B. Edmunds, Beaver Dam, chaplain and the members of the executive committee.

Most of these gentlemen were present at the meetings this afternoon and will remain over tomorrow for the sessions of the rally.

This rally is the second annual meeting of Janesville's camp No. 2, Gideons of America and while it is really only local in its nature, there will be many visitors in attendance, and some of the very best talent in the organization has been secured for the program by J. H. Nicholson, national secretary and chairman of the program committee. All of the sessions with the exception of the meeting at the Y. M. C. A. building tomorrow afternoon, which is for men only, will be open to the public and the people of Janesville will have an opportunity of enjoying a series of meetings brimful of good things. It is hoped that all the meetings will be largely attended, thus showing the Gideons that they have the sympathy of the people in their work for the traveling men.

Rally Begins Tonight

The rally proper will begin this evening with a Gideon camp fire at the Presbyterian church. National President S. E. Hill of Beloit, will be the moderator and the congregational singing for this meeting and for tomorrow's services will be led by Frank Woodcock of Chicago.

The campfire will open with a ten-minute song service after which the Rev. Robert C. Denison will invoke

DEPUTY GAME WARDENS ARE BUSY; SPECIAL ATTENTION TO SHIPMENTS

Good Capture in the New County of Gates in Barrels Labeled "Turnips"—Hunters Learning Lesson.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 19.—(Special).—The deputy game wardens are getting busy all over the state, and reports of two or three arrests, sometimes half a dozen are reported every day to State Game Warden Overbeck. Deputy J. W. Stone, who is paying special attention to shipments made a good capture in the new county of Gates, a day or two ago. He found on the depot platform two barrels labeled "turnips" which excited his suspicion. He found a few turnips in the barrels but underneath them he found three and a half dozen partridges which A. Armstrong, a resident of the county was endeavoring to ship to C. E. Cobb of St. Paul. Armstrong was arrested, pleaded guilty, paid his fine and lost his partridges.

Deputy E. L. Tracy found at a Milwaukee depot two boxes marked "water cross," shipped from Wabasha, Minn., to H. B. Smith of Freeport, Ill. This is a long distance to ship water-cross and Tracy proceeded to investigate. He found the "cross" to consist of a quantity of pike and black bass. Mr. Smith grew indignant when he learned of the seizure, and sent a demand to Mr. Overbeck demanding the re-shipment of the fish, saying he knew the law and the seizure was unwarranted. The law, however, provides for the seizure of fish which are shipped under a deceptive label, and his demand will be ignored.

At DePere F. J. Neubaum paid a fine of $50 and costs for attempting to ship a box containing three dozen partridges out of the state. Another seizure at Milwaukee consisted of two boxes containing ducks, snipe, quail, partridges, squirrels and rabbits. In Vilas county F. A. Winstaw, a non-resident, paid $50 and costs for hunting without a license, and his Winchester shot gun was confiscated. Hunters are learning a lesson from the frequent arrests, and already 175 licenses have been issued to non-residents, a much larger number than ever before.

INFLAMES THE SOUTHERN ELEMENT; SAVAGE CRITICISM OF ROOSEVELT

Entertainment of Booker T. Washington at the White House Subject of Much Comment in the South.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—President Roosevelt's action in inviting Booker T. Washington to the White House on Wednesday night continues to inflame the southern element in this city, as well as the people all through the south, to an extraordinary degree, in fact the topic has become one of current discussion, both among officials and private citizens.

Southern public men will not discuss the matter for publication for the obvious reason that the President received Professor Washington at his own table, and these southern statesmen take the ground that they have no right, even as Democrats, to criticize the domestic arrangement of the president. Privately, however, they are practically unanimous in the declaration that the episode has probably put an end to all attempts to conciliate the southern democrats. Senator Bailey was a conspicuous offender. He criticized the president in the presence of a dozen men on Thursday night, and nevertheless was at the White House yesterday morning asking for an army appointment for a personal friend.

When asked for an explanation Mr. Bailey said that his criticisms were entirely personal and private, while his visit to the White House was as a senator in performance of what he conceived to be his public duty.

Curiously enough, President Roosevelt takes much of the same view of the situation. He will not dignify the episode by permitting any authorized statement to be made regarding it, but it is quite well understood from the conversations he has had with personal friends that he considers the affair a matter entirely personal with himself, with which no one of the president. Privately, however, they are practically unanimous in the declaration that the episode has probably put an end to all attempts to conciliate the southern democrats. Senator Bailey was a conspicuous offender. He criticized the president in the presence of a dozen men on Thursday night, and nevertheless was Addresses by these gentlemen will take the place of the regular sermon by the pastors. S. E. Hill, of Beloit, and W. H. Teetzel, of Chicago, will be the speakers at the Congregational church; Frank A. Garlick, Chicago, and Sam J. Lea, Elgin, at the Baptist church; R. L. Adams, Madison, and Fred Woodcock, Chicago, at the First M. E. church; E. C. Beedee of Monmouth, will be one of the speakers at the Presbyterian church and L. Williams of Chicago at the Court street M. E. church.

The inability of two gentlemen who had expected to be present to keep their engagement makes it necessary to appoint substitutes for them and the other speakers for these two churches will be decided upon before this evening's meeting.

F. C. Harder Moderator
F. C. Harder, of Plainfield, N. J., one of the national superintendents will be the moderator of the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. building, tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock. This will be one of the best meetings of the rally and will be of especial interest to all men.

There will be bright and spicy talks by national Supt. C. H. Palmer, Chicago; National Supt. F. C. Harder, Plainfield, N. J.; and Frank A. Garlick and W. H. Teetzel, of Chicago. Vice President R. L. Adams of Madison will have the Bible reading and there will be vocal solos by Col. E. O. Kimberly and E. O. Woodcock, of Chicago, the latter to sing with guitar accompaniment, and a grand serenade by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra.

At 5:30 o'clock the Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor and Epworth Leagues of this city will assemble at the Baptist church and L. Williams, of Chicago, will take charge of this union service. The Bible reading will be by S. J. Lea, of Elgin and the prayer by E. C. Beedee, of Monmouth. Twenty minutes will be devoted to the sentence testimonials, ten minutes to sentence prayers and there will be short addresses by the Gideons present. Miss Elizabeth Palmer and Fred Woodcock will sing solos and the meeting will close with the Christian Endeavor benediction.

The Closing Session
The closing session of the rally will be held at the Congregational church at 7 o'clock at which time the congregations of the Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational churches will join with the Gideons in a great union service. A. D. Lewis, state president of the Wisconsin Gideons, will be the moderator. Rev. Robert C. Denison will speak a few words of welcome and there will be ten minute addresses by W. H. Teetzel and L. Williams of Chicago, and closing remarks by Frank A. Garlick, also of Chicago.

The chorus choir of the Congregational church will sing two anthems there will be a vocal selection by a ladies' double trio, and Fred Woodcock of Chicago will sing "No, Never Alone" with guitar accompaniment. This is said to be a very effective and beautiful number. The musical program will also include a violin and cello selection by Oscar Halverson and F. F. Lewis. With the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" by the congregation and a prayer and benediction by the Rev. J. T. Henderson, the Gideon rally will come to a close.

MR. RICHARDSON ON BANKING.

The Bankers' Convention with the oft repeated expression of their desire to have the privilege of issuing the currency of the country based on their own honor. With a second mortgage on some franchise—or an option on Lithia Springs as collateral—excites the hobby of the writer. Bankers as a class are very respectable fellows. They often flourish on the monies of those who are "deluded with the idea that deposits are safe when in a bank." Doctors of Divinity as a class are also very respectable. As by the census of 1890 numerically, the bankers and clergy were to a decimal fraction the same.

Some fellow with more idleness than was good for him or his neighbors, figured the ratio of criminals 'tween the clergy and bankers, and found one-tenth of one per cent. less criminals among the bankers.

The writer, who is a currency crank, deems this a margin too small on which to base a credit.

A government organized solely for the purpose of collecting taxes is in duty bound to provide its citizens with a safe, sufficient, and convenient currency. If not, why not?

R. J. RICHARDSON.

Mr. Richardson explains that his communication is a burlesque on what he deems the important theories advanced by Secretary Gage and Mr. Eckels at the Bankers' Convention in Milwaukee. There is no danger of the government making any retrograde movement, and Mr. Richardson's fears are unfounded.

JACKSON STREET TRAFFIC BLOCKED

An Open Switch Caused a Passenger Coach to Be Thrown on the Crossing.

Traffic on North Jackson street was completely blocked last night from 7:45 for the space of an hour and a half by a passenger coach which had become squarely shoved across the street. The trouble was all caused by an open switch which allowed a switch engine pulling about sixty freight cars with a ten wheel engine pushing on the opposite end to run in on a siding on which a passenger engine and three passenger coaches were standing. Before the switch engine and cars could be stopped they had bumped the passenger engine into the coaches. They were pushed across Jackson street, demolishing the gates and a telephone pole that was in the way. The wreck was caused by Carl Miller, fireman of the passenger engine neglecting to close the switch to the siding after his engine went in. The engine that pulls the Watertown passenger that leaves here about eight o'clock in charge of Engineer Selleck and Fireman Miller had been run onto the siding near the old Bump elevator and was standing there waiting for the train to come in from the south. The Belvidere freight with a big engine on ahead and the "two spot" pulling at the rear end, backed up out of the yards in order to get onto the Afton branch. By the time the switch engine reached the open switch near High street, the train was under fair headway, and was on the main track onto the siding before it was realized that anything was wrong. When the switch engine crashed into the passenger engine Engineer Selleck was on the ground oiling up. The bump started his engine for it to stop, and it was bumped up like a camel between the passenger engine and the rear end of the caboose. They finally succeeded in getting the freight stopped but not until it had jumped the "two spot" off the track and pushed the passenger coaches right across Jackson street.

Supt. O'Brien was soon on the ground and by the use of a big ten wheel engine pulled the switch engine back away from the passenger engine and allowed the passenger engine to pull the coaches back far enough to clear the main track and allow the passage of trains. It took about an hour to get the coaches off of Jackson street.

AN INTERNAL REMEDY.

A Pleasant Tasting Tablet; Simple, Convenient; Cures Every Form of Catarrh.

The use of inhalers, douches, sprays, salves and powders for catarrh is a nuisance and inconvenience at the best, and cannot compare with anti-septic remedies in tablet form.

Internal remedies are the only ones which can really reach the seat of the disease which is in the blood and local applications can no more cure catarrh than rheumatism or kidney trouble, the excessive secretion in nose and throat being local manifestations of a deep seated poison in the blood.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, the most successful of the various internal remedies, is composed principally of highly concentrated antiseptics, which destroy the catarrh germs in the blood and causes them to be eliminated through the natural channels. Progressive physicians use and advise Stuart's Catarrh Tablets because they contain no cocaine, no opiate, no enervating drug whatever, but are composed of Guaiac, Hydrastin, Red Gum and similar catarrh antiseptics, and are so safe and pleasant that even little children may use them with excellent results.

Catarrh sufferers who have wasted time and money on local applications should not despair of a radical cure until a trial of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets has been made.

A complete treatment may be purchased at any drug store for fifty cents.

It Happened in a Drug Store

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist at Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." The remedy owes its great popularity and extensive sale to the personal recommendations of people who have been cured by its use. It is for sale by the Peoples' Drug Co. and Smith's Pharmacy.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Doubtless the most conspicuous event of the season will be the performance of Otis Skinner's elaborate revival of "Francesca Da Rimini," next Monday, October 21. In Francesca Da Rimini the popular actor has selected a play whose demands are of the highest order of artistic attainment, and that this fact has been fully realized by the actor is evidenced by the excellent character of the company he has engaged, the lavish outlay in the scenic department, and in every detail of the preliminary announcements.

Manager W. M. Hanley presents a grand scenic production of "Othello" at the Myers Grand on Thursday night with Mr. Robert B. Mantell as the title role, with a cast selected with special care, in support of this popular star. The scenery and costumes prepared expressly for this production by Manager Hanley, are historically correct, and hence add much more than ordinary interest and value to it.

Mr. Tim Murphy will be seen at the Myers Grand tonight on which occasion he will present here for the first time a new play of Washington life, "A Capitol Comedy," by Paul Willstach. This is one of the most successful American plays of this decade and stands as the first drama on life in the national capital which has received general admiration since "The Senator" and "A Texas Steer" made a standard which playwrights have found difficulty in approaching.

In Memory of Dr. M. G. Hodge.

At a recent meeting of the Chicago Ministerial conference, memorial resolutions were passed in view of the death of the late Dr. M. G. Hodge, for many years the venerated pastor of the Baptist church of this city. The ministerial conference is an organization of several of the pastors of Chicago who meet together each week for mutual helpfulness. Dr. Hodge was always a welcome visitor at these meetings which were one of the chief delights of the last year of his life.

In the course of the memorial adopted by these Chicago pastors, at their first meeting after their summer vacation, there is a tribute, which will be read with interest by and cherished in the memories of Dr. Hodge's many friends in this city because in it the truth is so exquisitely expressed. The tribute follows:

"The charm of Dr. Hodge's person was in the well rounded christian character. Faith, hope and love had moulded the strong man into such sweet and cheerful temperament as made his presence everywhere the very sunshine of heaven. This rare combination of pulpit power, executive ability and sweetness of disposition, while retaining his full mental vigor and cheerful tone to his eightieth year, has thrown about his departure a halo of glory. Therefore, resolved, that this conference do now pause in sincere gratitude to God that we have been permitted during the past year to come into touch with this honored octogenarian, who, in the beautiful preservation of all his marked powers of mind and heart, has from the very verge of heaven breathed upon us his cheerful benediction. Here at the last meeting before adjournment in July many of us remember his genial parting good bye. As we return, his voice seems to echo back from the golden gates, 'Meet me in the morning.' And we answer now and here, 'By God's good grace we will.'"

When you have no appetite, do not relish your food and feel dull after eating you may know that you need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at People's drug store and King's pharmacy.

Chicago's Annual Horse Show
Chicago is preparing for the most brilliant horse show ever held west of New York City. It is to be held at the Coliseum the week of Nov. 4 under the direction of the Chicago Horse show association. It will be the second annual exhibition of this organization and from the present outlook, will far surpass that of last year in the matter of exhibits. Cash prizes to the amount of $20,000 are offered and many handsome and valuable trophies are on the prize list. This will have a tendency to bring the finest collection of high class horses ever brought together in Chicago, and it is more than probable that the stables of every millionaire in America will be represented when the entry list closes next Saturday, Oct. 19th. Special railroad rates are to be offered on all roads running into Chicago.

Eruptions
Dry, moist, scaly, tetter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

The thing to do is to help the system discharge the humors, and to strengthen it against their return.

Hood's Sarsaparilla permanently cured J. O. Hines, Franks, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time; and Miss Alvina Walter, Box 212, Algona, Wis., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled. There are more testimonials in favor of this great medicine than can be published.

There was a most enjoyable and largely attended social given by the Epworth League of the First M. E. church last evening in the church parlors and it was one of those occasions when there was fun enough for every one and a little to spare.

The principal feature of the evening was a one scene comedy sketch, entitled "Why We Never Get Married."

Much amusement was occasioned by the reasons given by the fourteen young people of the League who participated in the sketch and when they all, with one accord, decided that matrimony wouldn't be such a bad venture after all and marched out by couples to the strains of a wedding march, played by Miss Elva Crawford, the audience applauded vigorously.

The next thing on the program was an old-fashioned spelling down. The rivalry between the two sides being keen and constant laughter greeted the grotesque spelling of words. After this contest had been brought to a successful termination, light refreshments were served. The young people were especially pleased at the presence of Rev. and Mrs. W. W. ## Overworked Women.

Fatigue is the natural result of hard work, but exhaustion results from weakness.

Hard work for a weak woman is traffic in flesh and blood.

It makes little difference what the field of work is, whether at home or elsewhere, if there is weakness, work brings exhaustion.

Ability to stand the strain of hard work is the privilege of the healthy and robust.

How our hearts ache for the sickly women that work for daily bread at some ill-paid factory employment!

How distressing also to see a woman struggling with her daily round of household duties, when her back and head are aching, and every new movement brings out a new pain!

If the mere looking on at these suffering women touches our hearts, how hopeless must life be to the women themselves!

Their devotion to duty is a heroism which a well person cannot understand.

Can these ailing, weak women, who are called upon to do work which would tire a strong man, be made to see that they can easily and surely better their condition?

Will not the volumes of letters from women made strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, convince them of the virtues of this medicine?

How shall the FACT that it WILL HELP THEM be made plain?

When a medicine has been successful in more than a million cases, is it justice to yourself to say, without trying it, "I do not believe it would help me?"

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak and sick and discouraged, exhausted with each day's work. You have some derangement of the feminine organism, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you just as surely as it has others.

Read the letters from women in the opposite column of this paper, and when you go to your drug store to buy this sterling medicine, do not let yourself be persuaded to accept the druggist's own valueless preparation because it is a few cents cheaper than

$5000 REWARD

Owing to the fact that some skeptical people have from time to time questioned the genuineness of the testimonial letters we are constantly publishing, we have deposited with the National City Bank, of Lynn, Mass., $5,000, which will be paid to any person who can show that the above testimonials are not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writers' special permission.—LYDIA E. ## Evidence of Mrs. Pinkham's Cures.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—One year ago I read a letter in a paper telling how much good one woman had derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had been sick all winter and was nearly discouraged, as the medicine the doctor gave me did me no good. I had kidney complaint, leucorrhoea, itching, bearing-down feeling, and painful menstruation. I wrote to you describing my trouble and soon received an answer telling me what to do. I followed your instructions, and have taken nine bottles of Vegetable Compound and used one package of Sanative Wash and one box of Liver Pills. I am well now, do not have those sick spells at the monthly period, but can work all day, and that I never could do until I began taking the Compound. I cannot praise the Compound too highly. I do hope every suffering woman will learn of your remedies and be cured as I have been. I wish all success to the Compound! It has done wonders for me and I am so thankful.—MRS. GENIE KELLOGG, Berlin Heights, Ohio.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to let you know that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of painful menstruation from which I suffered terribly. I really believe that I would be insane to-day if it had not been for your medicine. I cannot praise your Compound enough, and feel that if all who suffer from female troubles would put themselves under your care and follow your advice they will find relief.—MISS K. E. SCHOLTES, Mt. Oliver, Pittsburg, Pa.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For eight years I have suffered with inflammation of the womb and bladder, profuse and painful menstruation, and at times it seemed as though I should die. I doctored most of the time, but seemed to fail every year. A short time ago I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, thanks to your wonderful medicine, I am to-day a well woman. Your medicine is woman's best friend.—MRS. L. L. TOWNE, Littleton, N. H.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered for six years, sometimes being unable to get about at all. It seemed to me as though I could not live, and I did not care to. I had womb trouble, kidney trouble, leucorrhoea, backache, was nervous, and had no ambition. I was obliged to give up my trade. I tried three doctors, but they did me no good, so I thought I would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and I felt better after the first bottle, and by the time I had taken six I was able to resume my work again. I shall always praise your Vegetable Compound.—MRS. MARY A. RUSSELL, Chincoteague Island, Va.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was sick for seven years without any relief, although treated by two of the very best doctors in this city. A few years ago I was nothing but a living skeleton. The doctor said my heart was the cause of all my sickness and that I could only be relieved, but never get well. Sometimes I would get so exhausted and short of breath that I would not know what to do. My nerves were very weak, blood impure. Was troubled with hands and feet swelling; also had leucorrhoea. I have taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and feel well once more. I have gained twenty-seven pounds and am able to work all day in the store and do not feel tired when I get home at night. Words cannot express my gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham for what her medicine has done for me.—PETRA M. LOYA, care of L. Wolfson, San Antonio, Texas.

Owing to the fact that some skeptical people have from time to time questioned the genuineness of the testimonial letters we are constantly publishing, we have deposited with the National City Bank, of Lynn, Mass., $5,000, which will be paid to any person who can show that the above testimonials are not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writers' special permission.—LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., Lynn, Mass.

A Mother's True Friend

"I would like to express my gratitude for the benefit received from your wonderful medicine, 'Favorite Prescription,' writes Mrs. H. C. Anderson, of South Britain, New Haven Co., Conn. (Box 33). 'During the first month of pregnancy I could not keep anything on my stomach. Was so sick that I had to go to bed and stay for weeks. I tried different doctors, but with little benefit. I read about many being helped by using your medicine so I thought I would give it a trial. I began to take your Favorite Prescription in November and I had a nice little baby girl in February following. My baby weighed over eight pounds. I was only in hard labor about one hour and got along nicely during confinement; was up and dressed on the eighth day. I never had the doctor with me at all. My friends thought that I was sick a very short time. I think Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is indeed a mother's true friend, for it helped me wonderfully.'"

THE GIDEONS.

The Gideons are here.

Not for the purpose of selling goods or discussing bargains.

They are out on a peaceful mission, with no samples to annoy.

They come from various parts of the country to celebrate the organization of the Gideons.

They have found it possible for men to be missionaries of commerce and standard bearers of the gospel of peace.

They come from various parts of the country, churches tomorrow, and it is safe to say that truth will be presented with the same vigor that bargains are offered on the road.

The sword of the Lord and of Gideon has always been a convincing argument, but the Gideon is always necessary for execution. The Band of Gideons has accepted the sword as a weapon. If you would see how they handle it, go to church tomorrow.

THE BAND OF GIDEON.

Janesville is honored by a visit from the Gideons. They gained admission without the aid of tin horns and pitchforks, and the walls of the city are still intact. They are a determined looking lot of men, and if three hundred of them ever start out on a crusade, with the same motto as that adopted by their predecessors so many years ago, "The Sword of the Lord and of Gideon," most any kind of an army would surrender hands down.

The city welcomes these christian traveling men, and bids them God-speed. From a small beginning, an army of 1,700 strong and this represents but a fraction of the men on the road who are in sympathy with them.

The time was, and not so many years ago, when the "Khitinceth years ago," when the "Knight of the Grip" was a byword, and in the language of the street, "a holy terror." If he didn't drink and smoke, play poker, and flirt with the girls, there was something lacking in his equipment. He had plenty of money belonging to the house, and expenses seldom worried him.

Two of these old time missionaries were waiting for a train at Beloit one dismal Saturday afternoon twenty-five years ago. One of them, after a vain effort to balance his expense account, said:

"Well, I'm an even ten spot shy, and I just remember where it went to. I broke a tooth chewing tough beef in Milwaukee the other day, and that cost a fiver, and I had to have a heavy pair of shoes to keep my feet dry and that took the rest of it. Of course I can't travel without shoes or teeth, and the house must pay the bill."

The argument seemed a little strained to his friend, and he said:

"How are you going to work it?"

"Oh, that's easy, you see I'm allowed five dollars a day for expenses, and I'll just go to Janesville and lay off two or three days to catch up."

That was years ago when almost any man could get a job on the road. Today conditions are changed, and among the requisites to gain and hold a position, are honesty, sobriety, morality and a host of graces that contribute to the character of a gentleman. As a result, the traveling men as a class are recognized today, as worthy of confidence, and the highest regard.

The Gideons say by their organization, "We find it possible to be christian traveling men. They have discovered that the church, which is next to the home in point of sacredness, supplies in a measure the want that comes to every man on the road who appreciates a home when the Sabbath finds him far beyond its reach.

They have made another discovery that is more important, that when a man is at peace with himself he is in his best estate, and well equipped for the duties of life.

All honor to the Band of Gideon. May it increase in strength until a great army of traveling men find protection under its banner and go forth to battle with sin, while they work for success so richly deserved.

"PEACE BE UNTO THEE."

"Read that verse again Johnnie."

The mother sat by the table knitting, while the little boy with the family bible open before him, labored through a chapter in the old testament, for he was reading the old book through for the first time, not so much to gain knowledge, as to win the bright silver dollar on the mantle as a reward.

Some of the chapters were dry, and many of the names so long and hard to pronounce that he often felt like adopting the plan of the old preacher who believed that every word of the old book was precious, and that it was his duty to read any chapter that presented, when the volume was opened.

He was conducting family devotion one morning in the home of a parishioner, and opening the bible to the eleventh chapter of Genesis, commenced to read. He got along all right for a few verses, and then he hesitated, for the genealogy was perplexing.

"Shem was a hundred years old and begot Arphaxad."

Looking down the page and seeing more snags ahead he closed the book with the remark:

"And so they went on begetting to the end of the chapter. Let us pray."

But the story Johnnie was reading tonight was very interesting, and at his mother's request, he read the verse again.

"And the Lord said unto him: 'Peace be unto thee; fear not; thou shalt not die.'"

Then the mother said: "Put up the book for tonight my boy and I will tell you the story," and Johnnie, who always enjoyed his mother's stories, was soon an attentive listener.

Gideon was a farmer's boy. He was strong and active, liked to work and was always busy. His father owned a vineyard, and one day in October Gideon was working around the old wine press back of the house, when a man came along and sat down on a stump and watched Gideon, and when he saw how muscular and strong he was, and noticed that he had a good honest face, he said to him:

"The Lord is with thee: thou mighty man of valor."

Gideon looked at the man and discovered that he was a messenger from God, but he didn't think he knew what he was talking about, and so he said to him: "If the Lord is with us why don't he help us and drive off our enemies?" "No," he said, "the Lord has forsaken us."

Then the man looked at the boy and said: "Gideon, you are strong enough and brave enough to lead an army to victory, and you've got to do it."

And Gideon, astonished and frightened, said: "What? Me? Why, I'm the least of my father's house, and we are poor; I can't think of such a thing." But the man said: "Yes you can, and the Lord will help you." And so Gideon said: "Well, you wait a few minutes till I go in and see my mother." When he came back he had a nice lunch for the man, and he took it and thanked him for it, and laid it down on a flat stone, and then he took his cane, and touched the stone, and the lunch commenced to smoke and in a minute it was all on fire and burned up.

"Gideon was surprised, but he knew by the miracle that the man was God's messenger, and so he consented to organize an army, and start out to make war on the Midianites. And then the man went away, and Gideon was afraid, because he had seen an angel, face to face, but a voice that he recognized as the voice of God, said to him:

"Peace be unto thee; fear not. And so he went to work, full of hope and courage."

Then the mother stopped, and Johnnie said: "Is that all of the story; did Gideon win?" And the mother said: "Yes, my boy; he couldn't help it; but the story is too long for tonight; some other time I will tell you how he won with three hundred men and what kind of weapons he used, and how the sword of the Lord and of Gideon are always equal to every conflict; but that's all for tonight." Johnnie went to bed wondering what the sword of the Lord had to do with the verse "Peace be unto you; fear not." He thought he wouldn't be afraid with a sword, but he didn't know about the peace.

Older heads than Johnnie's have been troubled over the same question and many a heart has grown faint and weary on the great battlefield of life, in the unequal conflict for supremacy.

The struggle for bread with but meager results, is not so common in this day and land of plenty, where almost every man may be a sovereign if he will, but there are other fields of conquest, where heart and brain are taxed to the limit.

This busy world is a scene of conquest, where victories are won and defeats encountered, with monotonous regularity. The steel of brain, backed by iron will and strong determination, comes in sharp contact with opposing forces, equally well equipped, and the battle is fierce and furious.

Competition in every department of life is the incentive, and the man or woman, who fails to meet it heroically, soon drops out of the ranks, and becomes a camp follower. The victory is never assured to the hero, but the satisfaction born of honest and persistent effort, is never lacking. Failure is more common than success in every field of human endeavor, and peace amid the turmoil is seldom encountered.

Every home is a scene of conflict, and not always free from carnage. Not often the carnage of bloodshed and crime, but the carnage of blighted hopes, and blighted ambitions. Many of the castles that looked so promising in the bright sunlight of love's early morning, are in ruins. Many prospects that seemed so fair and promising are but a memory of unsatisfied ambition. Many plans that looked so well on paper, and promised rich return, never blossomed.

Almost every home has its skeleton, hid away in some closet, where curious eyes and busy tongues are never permitted to intrude.

Every heart is a battlefield where the forces of good and evil marshal their armies, and wage constant warfare. The forces of evil are subtle and aggressive, and the heart that repels them puts on the whole armor of righteousness. With this equipment and the sword of the Lord as a weapon, every attack is resisted and there comes to the heart, at the close of every conflict, a feeling of peace, such as came to Gideon so long ago, when the Lord pronounced a blessing upon him.

The victory over self is the greatest victory that ever comes to a human heart. With it comes, not only peace, but hope and love, encouraged by a faith that knows no fear or failure.

The Band of Gideon that has honored the city by its visit, is inspired by a gallant leader, who, many centuries ago, conquered the hosts of evil, and bequeathed to his followers the sword of the Lord and of Gideon.

Colonel Watterson of Kentucky will have a busy time in getting all the colonels of his state in line. The most of them carry a gun as well as a title. By this means many disputes are settled out of court.

Bishop Joyce took occasion to criticize the churches for wanting young men as pastors. The bishop has evidently overlooked the fact that this is the young man's age and that the supply in every department is not equal to the demand.

There is every reason why Governor La Follette should be given ample time to get well and there is no reason why the lieutenant governor should not be called upon to relieve him of responsibility.

St. Joseph, Mo., has recently buried Ann Taylor at the ripe old age of 110. Mrs. Taylor used tobacco and whiskey for 100 years. Her life might have been prolonged had she been an abstainer.

Henry Watterson of Louisville is about to commence a campaign of democratic reform and with Bryanism buried, he hopes to unite and reconstruct the party on a Watterson basis, which contains many frills not familiar to old time democracy.

The laying of the corner stone for the new city building today, was an impressive ceremony, and was an object lesson for the rising generation. The building will stand after the promoters and builders have passed on, and the boys and girls who witnessed the ceremony will remember the event when they assume responsibility. If they will put into the foundation of character, the keystone of honesty, and build intelligently, citizenship will be appreciated and the city government a credit in the years to come.

Live Stock Shows ...AT THE... PAN-AMERICAN

WHEN Superintendent Converse promised a better series of live stock shows at the Pan-American Exposition than was ever before attempted, the statement was accepted as an ordinary pleasant and pardonable exaggeration.

The complete success of the dog and the swine shows, however, proved to be the first steps toward redeeming his promise.

The cattle show was an agreeable surprise to every stockman who saw it and at once established a new standard of excellence that will not be equaled for years to come and possibly never surpassed as regards quality.

The sheep show, now fully under way and lasting to Oct. 25, is in every way a worthy successor to the dog, the swine and the cattle shows. The best flocks in the United States and Canada are represented, together with their recent additions of imported stock, consisting of about twenty fine animals now shown in this country for the first time.

The sheep show, taken as a whole, is one of the most complete ever brought together. Every important breed has a strong representation, while every breed known has an exhibit of some kind. The Island Black Face, of which there are but three or four flocks in the United States, are well represented, and they are creating a great deal of interest among the exhibitors and visitors.

All classes in the middle wools are particularly strong, among which are noted prizewinners from the east, west, the rich pasture lands and an illustration of what may be produced there without additional feed and without artificial shelter.

The Pan-American Horse Show.

Dame Fashion may have withdrawn her smile of approval and the different styles of autos turn their backs in derision, but the horse still holds favor with the great majority of mankind. The horse show at the Exposition which holds the boards for two weeks, from Oct. 7 to Oct. 10, will be no exception. Five hundred horses are coming which are carefully selected to faithfully represent the best of every breed found in the United States and Canada.

Vermont is again courting prominence by sending a fine lot of Morgan horses, a breed that should receive more attention than it does.

Draft horses, especially the Clydesdale and Percheron breeds, are well represented. These are principally from Canada and the western states.

German coach horses attract a great deal of attention. One large importation of these horses will be brought direct to the Exposition.

French-Canadian horses from Quebec are entered more as a special feature of the horse show. They are little known in the United States, but their style and endurance will commend them as superior coach horses and those that will command favor in any market.

Instead of enumerating the different breeds it is only necessary to select any kind of horse wanted, with the assurance that it will be on exhibition. The finest stables on the continent are contributing to the show with sufficient enthusiasm to insure the finest representation possible.

The judging takes place in the Stadium on the 9th and 10th of October, when this immense structure will be none too large to accommodate those who will want to see this crowning climax to such an elaborate series of live stock shows.

Poultry and Pet Stock.

From Oct. 21 to the close of the fair the stock pavilions will be once more filled with life, though in a very different form. Poultry of high degree from all parts of the United States and many places in Canada will fraternize without regard to politics or tariffs.

As near neighbors the poultry will have mice, rabbits, cats, cavy, prairie dogs, squirrels, ferrets, rats and Belgian hares, besides a great assortment of pigeons, owls, magpies and a great many cage birds.

Eight thousand animals and birds are being gathered together to form this complete cosmopolitan assemblage of birds and animals.

Wool Exhibit.

As another feature of the sheep show Superintendent Converse has arranged an exhibition of wool. This is international in scope, having fleeces from the different states, Canada and several South American countries. Argentina alone contributes more than 200 sample fleeces. Chile, Costa Rica, Bolivia, Salvador and other Central and South American countries are also represented. Such an international wool exhibit was never before attempted. It cannot fail to produce lasting benefits that will be shared by growers of sheep, manufacturers of woolen goods and through them the general public.

Shearing Machinery.

Still another accessory to the sheep industry is elaborately illustrated. In one of the stock buildings a platform was erected about three feet above the floor, upon which is installed the latest and best shearing and clipping machinery. Some of the machines are operated by electricity, while others are worked by hand. To show to Exposition visitors their practical working, twenty sheep are brought from the East Buffalo stockyards every morning. One machine is set in motion each half hour during the day, and one of the men in charge removes a fleece with it. One of the operators claims a speed of one and one-half minutes to a fleece.

Range Sheep.

In a pen outside of the regular sheep exhibit is a carload of range sheep direct from the Canadian northwest. These are sent as an advertisement of

Dyspepsia Cure

Digests
what you
Eat

Dyspeptics cannot regain health and strength by living upon half rations. They must eat plenty of good food and digest it. To enable them to do this they should use something that will help the stomach do its work. KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE is such a preparation. It digests what you eat and supplies the substances needed to build up the worn out digestive organs.

Prof. J. Iverson, of Lonsconing, Md., says: "For thirteen years I suffered agony from dyspepsia and neuralgia of the stomach. I tried almost everything and doctors drugged me nearly to death with morphine, but temporary relief was all I could obtain till I was advised to use KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE. The first dose gave me relief. I bought my first bottle in March, 1900, and I have not had a single pain since. It has completely cured me. I cannot endorse it too highly."

LAI CORNER STONE OF NEW CITY HALL

monies both appropriate and interesting. Today these ceremonies are to be performed by the officers of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Wisconsin assisted by the members of our local lodges. It is proper that these gentlemen should be called upon to perform this duty for they represent a society formed originally by the workmen on King Solomon's Temple and that from that day to this has been engaged in building not only the material buildings that are made by hands but in forming those immaterial characteristics that have marked the development of the slave citizen of King Solomon's time into the free citizens of today.

In those times if a corner stone was laid it belonged to some palace or other building of an absolute and despotic ruler and the crowd that assembled to do honor to the occasion was composed of the vassals, the slaves of that monarch. Today when we assemble for a like purpose it is to lay the corner stone of a noble building, dedicated to the public use, and we who assemble here to honor the occasion, assemble as the free and independent citizens of a great and liberal government in which each one of us has a part to perform. And it is well that we should have with us today these representatives of the masonic order if for no other reason than that they call attention to the great change that has taken place in citizenship since their order was founded. The change has been as great as that from absolute slavery to absolute freedom. And with this change in the condition of citizenship has also come a corresponding change in the responsibilities of citizenship. And it is of these responsibilities that we should think today.

Evidence of Prosperity
This building about which we are today assembled should not be only an evidence of our welfare and prosperity as citizens in the past but a promise of good citizenship in the future. And with this promise there should come to each one of us a sense of individual responsibility and duty. This sense of responsibility on the part of every citizen is the greatest safeguard of good government. If affairs go well here in Janesville and our citizens are pleased or if they go ill and we are displeased, it is not the gentlemen whose names appear on that stone who are to be thanked in the one case or blamed in the other but it is we ourselves, the citizens as a whole, who should receive the thanks or the blame. Those gentlemen but carry out your wishes. They but reflect the character of their constituents. And so sure as the standard of citizenship is lowered among us, just so sure will the standard of our representatives be lowered, and just so sure as we raise higher the standard of citizenship will the standard of our representative be raised.

Advice to Citizens
Every citizen should continually have this in mind and when dissatisfied with affairs ask himself if he has done all that he could to make them better. But while this is an occasion for reflection on our duty as a citizen it is also time for congratulation. This building when completed will be a beautiful and lasting monument of which the citizens of Janesville should be proud. We have everything here in Janesville to make us feel satisfied. The town is growing, business is good in all lines. Labor is well and profitably employed and I believe that the prospects for the future were never so good for this city as they are at present. This is a proper subject for self-congratulation, and as all of these conditions are, owing to the energy and thrift and good sense of our citizens. We have also arrived at that degree of prosperity when we can afford to have some of the luxuries of this life. We are building good streets, fine business blocks and beautiful homes, and we are providing for the higher needs of our citizens with a fine library and city hall.

Janesville Suits Him
If in these times of plenty there are any among us who still feel dissatisfied, I would advise them to take time to look over our city, admire all of its natural beauties, look deep into the lives and hearts of the people and I believe that they will agree with me that no where is there a better, more contented, happier people than here in Janesville.

During the past summer it was my good fortune to be able to travel considerably in the East and to visit many cities and while I found many places larger than this, many places of historic interest, places having desirable features that are lacking here, I did not see anywhere a better town of its size than this and when the train stopped at the depot and I got out and found Hogan as usual ready to watch me I felt so glad that I wanted to tell everyone that Janesville is good enough for me. We should all have this feeling. Without it we can do nothing, and with it we can do everything. And this is a good time to make resolutions to that effect.

The building of this city hall should mark the beginning of a new epoch in Janesville.

"Knockers" and "Boosters"
There are two kinds of people in this world, those who are at all times trying to build up and improve themselves and their friends and their city; and those who are always fighting against anything in the nature of a change or improvement. The former class have been called "Boosters" because they are always trying to raise or boost things up, and the latter class are called "Knockers" because well you all know what a "Knocker" is. A "Knocker" is a person who does nothing but knock. He don't build up the town any, he don't build up himself, he just knocks.

Now we are going to have a library and city hall and other things. And we want more. Let us all join the society of "Boosters" and keep the town moving towards the front as it is now.

Speech by Grand Master
The Grand Master then made a short speech thanking the citizens of Janesville for the hospitable manner in which the Grand Lodge officers had been received and hoped that the building of which they had just completed the laying of the corner stone might be long preserved from destruction and be a monument to the thrift and enterprise of the citizens of Janesville. The exercises were concluded by a prayer by the Grand Chaplain.

Every Preparation Made
Every preparation for the ceremony had been made by Contractors Rowson & Son. The debris about the corner had been cleared away as much as possible. The stone had been set in its place on the corner of the building, a flooring laid for the officials and a stairway constructed on the Wall street side to the first floor. Nothing was left undone that would add to the pleasure of the occasion.

Position of the Stone
The stone was laid at the northwest corner of the building with a face on Jackson street and one on Wall street. Its position in the building was between the basement water table and the first story sill course. It is four feet long, two feet wide and two feet thick and weighs in the neighborhood of a ton. The cap for the main stone is four feet long, one foot thick and two feet wide.

The date of 1901 was placed on the cap stone. On the Jackson street face of the corner stone was inscribed the names of the mayor and present council in the following order:

Mayor—
Victor P. Richardson
Aldermen—
F. E. Fifield, W. S. Rice,
C. L. Valentine, J. P. Hutchinson
H. S. Gilkey, W. H. Judd,
E. F. Hemming, F. H. Kothman,
J. B. McLean, W. A. Murray.

By this arrangement the names of the building committee appear in the first column in the order of their respective wards, and in the second column the balance of the aldermen in order.

On the Wall street face was inscribed the following:

A. L. 5901
F. H. L. Cotton Grand Master F. and A. M.

E. A. Rush & Co. Architects
James Rowson & Son, Contractors

Contents of Tin Box
The tin box placed in the cavity made for its reception in the corner stone contained the usual records placed in such receptacles, among them being copies of the papers published in the city, a list of the city officers, the council proceeding ordering the construction of building, sketch of the growth of the city and its prominent men by one of the early settlers and numerous other things of interest to future generations.

AN EPIDEMIC OF DOG POISONING

Quite a Number of the Most Valuable Canines in the City Have Been Killed.

A number of the most valuable dogs in the city have been poisoned recently and in almost every instance the animal which met an untimely death has been the valued property of some household and not a cur without a home.

In the majority of cases the cowardly action has been well covered up and it is impossible to discover the perpetrator and punish him for his heartless action. There has been one incident in the past week, however, where this has not proved true and if a certain man on Locust street has any intention of ending the lives of any more dogs he would do well to keep his purpose locked up safely in his own bosom and also to be sure that there are no witnesses to his action.

Not many nights ago his next door neighbors were forced to see their dog die in terrible agony from poisoning. Bright and early the next morning the owners of the dog received a visit from the little girl next door. "I want to see your dead dog," she announced. "I saw my papa give him the poison to kill him last night and now I want to see the dog."

THE FUNERAL OF MRS. MARTIN RYAN

One of the largest funerals ever held in the city paid earth's last tribute of respect to Mrs. Martin Ryan this morning. The impressive service in honor of her life and in memory of her excellent characteristics was held from St. Mary's church at 11 o'clock and was conducted by Rev. Father Wm. A. Goebel. A wealth of beautiful floral offerings told of the high esteem in which the deceased woman was held and an eloquent tribute was also paid by the long line of carriages which followed the remains to the grave in Mount Olivet cemetery at the conclusion of the sad service at the church. The funeral procession was a mile and a half long. The friends who officiated as pall bearers were Patrick Cullen, Andrew Cullen, James Cullen, Peter Barrett, James Lay and Patrick Riley.

HAVE FINISHED NEW ADDITION

Costly Structure That Fills a Long-Felt Want at the Store of Bort, Bailey & Co.

During the past two months carpenters, painters and masons have been busily engaged at the store of Bort, Bailey & Co., and the result of their labor is the addition of a carpet room that is a model one in every respect. The new addition is located on the second floor directly over the store. The dimensions are 75x50 feet. The occupied space involves several law offices as well as an entirely new part that is 65 feet in width by 35 in length. Hard wood floors are throughout the new part. A spacious stairway leads to the new addition from the rear part of the store. Sixteen windows located on the south and east, furnish perfect light. Numerous gas jets have been placed throughout so that at night the illumination is perfect. The new addition was modeled after special drawn plans and is not found wanting in any respect. Aside from being utilized as a carpet department it is here that Bort, Bailey & Co. have their display of draperies, matting, curtains, linoleums, rugs and oil cloths. One entire section of the large room is devoted exclusively to the display of large rugs. Never in the history of Janesville has such a complete display of large rugs been shown. The lot includes every known pattern and size of the Welton, Smyrna and Axminster makes. The carpet stock shown is of sufficient size to fill a good sized store by itself. For the fall and holiday buyers Bort, Bailey & Co. have made extra efforts to please. The erection of this new and costly addition to their store fills a long felt want as for many years this hustling firm have been short of room in which to show their carpets and rugs.

Mr. A. J. Russell, formerly of this city, but late of Chicago, died at his home in that city Thursday, Oct. 10th, of heart disease. He was interested in the old pickle factory and also the new canning factory in this city.

250 cloaks will be placed on the bargain table of Bort, Bailey & Co. next Tuesday and Wednesday.

VANISH WITH BANK CASH

Lowell, Mass., Excited Over a Rumored Defalcation.

TRUSTED MEN FALL SHORT.

The Loss at Lowell Placed by Some as High as $300,000—Boylertown, Pa., Institution Closes Its Doors When Cashier Disappears.

Lowell, Mass., Oct. 19.—Albert G. Smith, teller, and Lewis F. Swift, assistant bookkeeper of the Merchants' National Bank of this city, have disappeared and are believed to be embezzlers to a large amount. No definite statement of the amount of shortage can be learned, but there are rumors about town that the institution has lost anywhere from $40,000 to $300,000. Suspicion was first aroused in the morning when Smith and Swift failed to appear at the bank at the opening hour. An investigation was made, and the bank officers soon learned that neither man had spent the night at his home. Then accountants were put to work on the books and discrepancies were found. Business was conducted at the bank as usual during the day, and it was not until night that rumors of the shortage became known. The directors of the bank held a meeting which lasted until a late hour, and then William H. Anderson said that a definite statement would be given out after the shortage had been thoroughly investigated. There are rumors here that the two men took $90,000 in silver certificates away with them. The city is excited over the affair, the more so because the directors are unable at this time to make a statement as to the exact condition of affairs.

Cashier Missing, Bank Closes.

Boylertown, Pa., Oct. 19.—The National Bank of Boylertown, one of the oldest financial institutions in this section, has closed its doors as the result of the disappearance of its cashier, Milton A. Mory. An announcement was made that the bank will reopen in a few days and no depositor will lose a dollar, but an investigation of the books must precede the resuming of business. The affair has many strange features, and depositors cannot understand much that seems mysterious in the official statements. It is claimed by the officers that, although securities worth $165,000 had been taken, Mory left a letter telling where they could be found—at a broker's office in Philadelphia—and the paper was recovered, with a loss of less than $2,000.

THE MEN UPHOLDS SCHLEY

Important Evidence Given Before Court of Inquiry.

COMMANDER EVER BRAVE.

Oregon Officer's Story—Lieutenant Commander Nicholson Said the Texas Was Never Nearer Than One Mile to the Brooklyn During the Battle.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—Rear Admiral Schley upon several victories at the court of inquiry today, as the men of his ship stood loyally by him and testified to facts which not only go a long way toward removing any stigma that has been placed upon his name, but also gave several hard jolts to the case the department has attempted to make out against him. The Navy department itself was placed in an unenviable position by developments which show it sent Lieutenant Ward of the Navigation bureau to discuss the events of the Santiago campaign with Rear Admiral Schley's witnesses, and today attempted to use these conversations in impeaching the testimony of the witnesses. The Judge Advocate and consequently the department were trapped in an effort made to suppress the facts it is their duty to bring out. Some time ago Machinist Claxton of the Texas testified that he had hold of the throttle of the port engine of the Texas when the loop was made by the Brooklyn. He testified that the port engine had been reversed and the engine stopped. Chief Machinist J. L. Hanley of the Texas today testified that Claxton had charge of the air pumps on the day of the battle and that he—Hanley—was at the throttle of the port engine of the Texas during the entire battle. Hanley swore that the port engine of the Texas was not reversed and that it did not stop. This testimony is important as it seems to dispose of the claim that the Texas had Brooklyn were in danger of collision when the loop was made by the Brooklyn.

Oregon Officer Describes Battle.

Lieutenant Commander Nicholson, the executive officer of the Oregon, which, together with the Brooklyn, practically destroyed the Spanish fleet, was one of the most interesting witnesses of the day. He, like the other officers of the fleet, told the story of the battle. He said the Texas was never nearer than one mile to the Brooklyn and that there was no danger of the two vessels colliding. In common with all the officers who really did the fighting on July 3, Nicholson said the Oregon and the Brooklyn were close together during the entire battle. Lieutenant Commander Nicholson said when the Spaniards came out of the harbor the first thing he did was to look for the flagship New York, but that vessel had left the squadron and could be seen several miles in the distance. He told his story in the same modest manner that has characterized the men who were on the ships which did the real fighting. He provoked a smile throughout the courtroom when he said that during the chase of the Colon Captain Clark let half the crew go to dinner.

Thirty Shells Strike Brooklyn.

Ship's Carpenter Warford of the Brooklyn told of the injuries received by the Brooklyn, saying that thirty shells had struck the ship, to say nothing of the fragments. He saw Schley during the entire battle. The commander was on the platform outside the conning tower. Warford said of Schley's bearing: "He impressed me as being a brave and fearless officer." Schley gave encouragement to the men, according to this witness, by saying: "Give them hell, my bullies," and "Well done, my bullies." There was great danger of the Brooklyn being rammed by the Spanish ships, according to the witness, who said he received orders to close the water-tight doors and to "stand by to ram." This order was given before the Brooklyn made the loop, and when the ships of the Spanish squadron were sailing direct for the leading American ship. Lieut. Thomas P. Carter, the past assistant engineer of the Brooklyn, told of the conditions existing in engine-rooms at the beginning of the battle.

Schley Praised by Surgeon.

Passed Assistant Surgeon De Vallin of the Brooklyn said Schley's conduct on the day of the battle "was all that could be desired or expected. He seemed to know what he was about, and had perfect control of himself."

Grievous Story Is Told.

Lieutenant Ryan, assistant engineer of the Brooklyn who stood two feet from Yeoman Ellis when the latter was killed, said Schley's conduct during the battle was admirable. In describing the death of Ellis Lieutenant Ryan said Ellis had a stadiometer in his hand, was taking ranges, and was calling them out. Suddenly a shell from the Colon struck Ellis, carrying off his head. The body fell to the deck and the blood spurted on those about part of the bones of the dead man striking Ryan and injuring him. Owing to the great amount of blood Ryan and another officer started to throw the body overboard, but Schley directed the body covered up and carried aft. When this story was being told a suppressed expression of horror

BROUGHT TO LIGHT.

Janesville People Receiving The Full Benefit.

There have been many cases like the following in Janesville. Everyone relates the experience of people we know. These plain, straight, forward statements will do much toward relieving the suffering of thousands. Such testimony will be read with interest by many people.

Mr. E. T. Fish, of 855 Racine St., proprietor of the Fish Dray Line, says: "When I was twenty years of age I fell injured my back, and ever since that I was troubled more or less with a dull, aching pain across the loins. It never laid me up but it was often painful and annoying. Of late years I have gone to a physician every six months and had myself thoroughly examined under the impression that there might be something wrong with my kidneys. The diagnosis always resulting in the physician claiming these organs were sound, but as the pains existed when I happened to notice in our Janesville papers that Doan's Kidney Pills were guaranteed to cure just such troubles, I procured a box at the People's Drug Co.'s store, and took them. Doan's Kidney Pills are a good preparation. My back has not ached since I used them. I have heard others speak very complimentary of them and if I did not know their merit and required such a medicine I would consider it a favor if some one suggested their use to me. For this reason I endorse them."

JULIAN BURROUGHS' CHOICE.

Writer and Nature Student Lives on 5-Acre Grape Farm.

The name of John Burroughs, the charming writer and nature student, is doubtless familiar to most of our readers. Mr. Burroughs, on his little 5-acre grape farm near Schenectady, N. Y., surrounded by his woods, fields, birds and flowers, manages to gain more comfort and satisfaction out of life than the average millionaire. He has gone a long way toward mastering the delicate art of appreciating and cultivating the friendship of nature. It will be news to some who have enjoyed Mr. Burroughs' books to hear that he has a son, Julian Burroughs, who has found his father's mode of life so ideal and attractive that he has decided to adopt it for himself. Last month Julian was graduated from Harvard University. He is probably the only one of his class who intends to take up farming. Passing by the glitter and attraction of a commercial or professional career, into which most of his chums have entered, he will retire to his father's farm and spend his life there in study and labor near to nature's heart. At college he made a specialty of the English branches to fit himself as a writer and a student of literature. He will take his culture and education back to the farm, where he will lead the life of a simple rustic, writing books and articles for magazines, with nature as his material. Young Burroughs is fond of hunting and fishing. He is of a strong, athletic build. At Harvard he won some distinction as a oarsman. While his weight is only 130 pounds, he was considered one of the best single oarsmen in the university. At the metropolitan regatta last year he captured first place in the junior race. He also had a good record as a runner. Some college men would think the life young Burroughs has chosen a slow one, and that he is not making the most of his education, but Julian points to the calm, delightful life of his father and says that is enough to satisfy him.—Young People's Weekly.

LAXAKOLA

THE GREAT TONIC LAXATIVE

At some time, if not habitually, you have sour stomach, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, bad breath, dizziness, inactive liver, heartburn, kidney troubles, backache, loss of appetite, insomnia, lack of energy, bad blood, blotched or muddy skin, or some of the other symptoms and disorders which tell the story of bad bowels and an impaired digestive system. Laxakola will cure you. It will clean out the bowels, stimulate the liver and kidneys, strengthen the mucous membranes of the stomach, purify your blood and put you "on your feet" again. Your appetite will return, your bowels will move regularly, your liver and kidneys will cease to trouble you, your skin will clear and freshen and you will feel the old time energy and buoyancy.

Mothers who had been seeking the proper medicine to give their little ones for constipation, diarrhea, colic and similar troubles, find Laxakola an ideal medicine for children. Children like its taste and ask for it. It keeps their bowels regular without any pain or griping, and acts as a general tonic at the same time. It will assist nature, aid digestion, relieve restlessness, clear the coated tongue, reduce fever, cause refreshing, restful sleep and make them well, happy and hearty.

Laxakola, the great laxative tonic, is not only most efficient of family remedies, but the most economical, because it combines two medicines, viz: laxative and tonic, and at one price. No other remedy gives so much for the money. At drug stores, etc., or send for free sample to 1112 LAXAKOLA CO., 35 Nassau Street, N. Y., or 535 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

Trade supplied by King's Pharmacy and People's Drug Store.

MISS STONE IS PUT IN DANGER

Result of Consul Dickinson's Refusal to Pay the Ransom.

AN AMUSING STORY

A Vienna Paper Says That the Missionary Consented to Being Kidnaped.

WILL HOLD BULGARIA

London, Oct. 19.—The Sofia correspondent of the Morning Leader writes under date of Oct. 15: "This is the forty-first day of Miss Stone's captivity. Four thousand Bulgarian and Turkish troops have been making efforts to release her. This, it is said here, would have been effected some time ago but for the stupid opposition of Dickinson, the American Consul General at Constantinople, to offering her captors more than an ordinary pour-boire. His action is regarded as placing Miss Stone in great danger."

A Vienna paper receives the amusing information from Constantinople that Miss Stone herself agreed to the kidnapping because she sympathizes with the patriotic efforts of the Macedonian committee, and wishes them to pocket her ransom to aid their propaganda.

The semi-official Politische Correspondenz gives the text of a note the Bulgarian government lately addressed to Dickinson, deferring itself against the charges made against it in connection with the abduction, complaining of Dickinson's dissatisfaction with Bulgaria's efforts, and accusing the United States government of basing its charge of Bulgaria's responsibility for a crime committed in Turkey upon a suspicion against an alleged secret committee supposed to exist in Bulgaria. The government protests that this is a serious and unmerited accusation. It says that if the brigands succeed in entering Bulgaria the government will mercilessly pursue and annihilate them; but it will not enter into any negotiations whatever to obtain Miss Stone's release by the payment of a ransom, as it does not wish to establish a precedent.

The Standard's Vienna correspondent comments upon the note, saying that if anybody before reading the note suspected the Macedonian committee and Bulgarian government of shielding the brigands he will now be convinced. He adds that the right course now is not to pay a ransom, but to hold Bulgaria answerable for Miss Stone's safety. He further says that those who know the facts see no reason for anticipating any danger to Miss Stone's life.

A DOCTOR'S EXPERIENCE.

"Strange as it may seem," remarked a physician who has practiced in a small place for nearly 25 years, "three-fourths of my practice is amongst the farmers living within a radius of 12 miles of this town. Farmers ought to be the healthiest people on earth, but as a matter of fact, there is somebody sick in their families most of the time. The trouble is, they eat too much. Their stomachs become clogged, biliousness and headache follow, then they send for me. Town people over-eat too, but for reasons easily explained. They do not eat as much as a farmer and eat too much. Their stomachs become clogged, biliousness and headache follow, then they send for me. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and Herbs Laxative Compound taken directly makes healthy stomachs. It heads off indigestion, despondency, sickness, headache and constipation and expensive doctor bills. It is sold by most druggists in 50c and $1.00 bottles. Ask for it by name. We will be glad to send you a trial bottle and a valuable little book on stomach troubles free. Pepsin Syrup Company, Monticello, Ill., U. S. A."

Work of a Corn Shredder

"They have a peculiar way of docking horses' tails in the town of Magnolia." Today while men were shredding corn on William Popp's farm, a hired man drove a team of valuable horses belonging to Warren Andrews too near to the corn shredder. In some way the tail of one of the horses was caught by the shredder and jerked off, leaving a stub about two inches long. It is thought that the horse will live.

Leonard-Townson Wedding.

Local friends of Miss Maude Ella Leonard, formerly of this city, have received cards announcing her marriage to Franklin Arthur Townson of Cleveland, Ohio. The happy event occurred at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. George Smith, Charles City, Iowa, on Wednesday, Oct. 16. The bride will be well remembered here, although she moved to Chicago about fifteen years ago, when her father, W. H. Leonard, severed his connection with the Recorder and went to the city to engage in the grocery business. For several years Miss Leonard has been assistant society editor of the Chicago News, and also did much of the book reviews for the paper. She is very talented, and her literary ability is of high order. Her husband is associated with his father in a large contracting business.

FIVE MEN KILLED IN TUNNEL.

Enormous Mass of Rock Falls on Workmen in Excavation.

New York, Oct. 19.—Fifty tons of rock caved in on the Rapid Transit tunnel at One Hundred and Sixty-seventh street and Broadway, killing five of the forty men who were at work far below the surface in the burrow. The dead are: Peter O'Hara, aged 65; Daniel Kelleher, aged 60; Luigi Dahise, aged 25; Patrick Madden, foreman, and John Gornosky. Foreman Madden was found pinned down by tons of broken rock, only his feet being clear of the mass of debris.

McCabe Brothers, the contractors, are unable to explain the disaster. They said it was the west side of the tunnel work that had collapsed, and that it seemed on inspection to have consisted of solid rock and to have been very firm. The cave-in did not extend to the surface.

TELLS OF A CONSPIRACY.

Wharton Golden Gives Testimony in Powers Trial.

Georgetown, Ky., Oct. 19.—When court convened Judge Morton moved to suspend night sessions. The prisoner, ex-Secretary of State Caleb Powers, made affidavit that he was physically disabled. He affirmed also that he had no time to confer with his attorneys. Judge Cantrill reserved decision.

Judge Sims resumed the cross-examination of Wharton Golden, one of the alleged conspirators.

Last night Golden testified he was in a conspiracy to murder Goebel, and that he had told Jim Moran that he would give $500 to any man who killed Goebel. When Goebel was shot Golden said he remarked: "It's a good thing."

BOLOMEN ARE ROUTED.

Over 100 slain in Fierce Attack Upon 9th Infantry.

Manila, Oct. 19.—Five hundred bolomen attacked a detachment of forty-six men of the Ninth Infantry at Bangajon, on the Gandara river, island of Samar, killing ten and wounding six. The remainder of the company arrived on the scene in time to prevent further slaughter and routed the enemy, killing over 100 of them. It is believed that the enemy only retired for re-enforcements.

As soon as the news was received at Cebu two gunboats were dispatched, Gen. Smith going in person to the scene.

Fiske Warren, the first man to take the oath of allegiance required under the recent act of the Philippine commission of all suspects attempting to land, has been closely identified with Sixto Lopez. Many treasonable and inflammatory proclamations were found in his baggage. Regarding these he said he had only one copy of each, having retained these as souvenirs. It is known also that he was intimate with the members of the junta in Hongkong. He at first objected to taking the oath, saying that he was a loyal citizen, but he signed it when notified that on no other condition would he be allowed to land.

Some of his fellow passengers told Gov. Taft that Warren and Lopez shook hands and retired for consultation upon hearing of President McKinley's assassination. Gov. Taft considers the action of the commission in requiring all suspects to swear allegiance perfectly justified.

A HEALTHY VOICE.

Faithful Practice Will Do Much to Acquire It.

A strong, sweet, beautiful voice is greatly to be desired by every one, says Health. In some climates, like Italy, for instance, the voices are almost all fine. In other places where it is cold and moist the voices are too often bad. In the country, where the young grow up in an out-of-door life, where they can "holler" and even "yell," the voices are much better and stronger than in the city, where a young person must suppress himself and always speak in gentle tones. Thin, throaty tones, or those with a nasal intonation are bad enough to the sensitive ear when used in the key of ordinary conversation. When it is needed to expand such voices to the declamatory point, then lack of volume and mellowness is evident. Faithful practice may do much to correct faults of emphasis and inflection, but the most sanguine coach will not undertake to make over a poor voice in a course of three or even six weeks' rehearsals. The possibilities of the speaking voice are beginning to be understood. Parents are discovering that it is a wise plan to cultivate in their children an agreeable voice. Instructors in the art of developing the exquisite mechanism and wonderful capability of the human speaking voice are springing up on every side. It cannot be long before it will be a positive reproach for a woman of education, at least, to speak in shrill, nasal or unplaced tones. The voice is a mirror of the mind. A coarse, harsh, disagreeable voice can best be cured by improving the mind and heart.

Britons Smoke Their Own Cigars.

The trade in British cigars has benefited considerably in recent years. At one time the smoking of a British cigar by any individual was regarded as a particularly daring feat, to be admired but not imitated. Things have changed since then and now the British cigar, if not equal to the Havana, is decidedly superior to most continental brands.
